

Social heart. Business mind.

Co-opted Independent Committee Members £2,500 p.a. (three roles)

Located just to the north of Newport in South Wales, Bron Afon provides housing and support services for over 8,000 properties and 900 leaseholders. Our aim is to play an instrumental part in creating flourishing communities in our part of Wales. Providing good quality, affordable housing is an essential part of achieving this, as well as providing encouragement and practical support to people who need it.

It's important to us that we have an effective governance model in place, that enables us to draw on the expertise and experiences of different people in setting our organisational strategy and then measuring progress against the targets we set ourselves. Following a recent governance review, we now have a number of non-executive roles available for people who feel they can add value to what we do and who are passionate about committing their skills to delivering positive outcomes for people and communities.

We're inviting applications from people with a range of professional backgrounds with a view to establishing a diverse Board with different perspectives and complementary skills.

We're interested in hearing from people with expertise in HR, Governance, ICT, Business Assurance & Audit, Customer Engagement and Property Maintenance or Development. Your experience may cover more than one of these areas, or you may have other professional skills and knowledge that can add value to our work. Our emphasis is on attracting people who are passionate about shaping successful and thriving communities and who can see the potential impact of what we do.

This is a great opportunity to apply your skills at a strategic level in an organisation that is making a difference to people's lives. We recognise the benefits of cross sector knowledge and expertise so it isn't essential that you have any direct experience in the social housing sector. We are also open-minded about your geographical location.
